Collecting Treasure from the Islands of Possibilities

Increasing the Power to Change Your Mind

By Anne Tyler, MS, LMFT

Learning Station #5 – Island of Mindful Listening and Talking
Treasure – Jewel of Confidence

Game – LEGO Building Challenge
Material – Legos – 2-3 built structures (easy) and Ziploc bags with the exact LEGO pieces for the number of builds, sand timer, secret panel for the leader to hide the LEGOS behind

Directions for 1st LEGO challenge – practice

Students are divided into groups of 3.

Roles –

Builder – Builds the LEGOS as instructed by the director, cannot decide to build a different way

Director – tells the builder what to build, cannot touch or point at the LEGOS

Leader – The keeper of the secret build

Roles of the builder and director will shift during the game.

Directions:

1) The leader places A LEGO build behind the secret panel so the builder and director can't see it.

2) When the game begins, the director and builder take out the set of LEGO pieces that go with the build.

3) The director looks at the LEGO build in secret for a certain length of time. Leader can count to 20 to themselves and signal when the director must begin giving instructions to the builder.

4) The director returns to the builder and gives the builder verbal instructions on how to do part of the build. The director CANNOT point and touch the LEGOS.

5) After the sand timer is done, the builder and director must stop building.

6) The roles of the builder and director switch. Now the builder is the director and the director is the builder.

7) The NEXT director comes up and looks at the LEGO build. The new director goes back to their group and tells the next builder what to build.

8) The LEGO build is compared to the original that was kept in secret to see how correct it is.

After completing the first build. All three players switch roles and a new leader is chosen to keep the new build secret.
